Othello's Brother

Dear Othello,

We are sorry to inform you that your brother Othello is dead. Within this package is the very dagger that killed Othello. We thought you would like to keep it to remember your brother.

- Lodovico

P.S. if you would like to hear how your brother died please come to Venice attached to this letter is a ticket to Venice. He was an honorable man.

Astonished by the terrible news. He set out to find out who or what killed his brother in Venice and kill everyone who was involved in his murder. Driven by hatred he opened the dagger and left to go to Venice.

Deeply planning his brother's revenge he hardly realized that his planning took three whole days and that's when he arrived to Venice. Once he got there he quickly gazed around and located a marble palace, which he thought belonged to the duke of Venice and that's where Lodovico must be.
